

Mind mapping is a visual form of note taking that allows for creating new ideas and building connections. Through the use of colors or shapes, central ideas expand outward and develop.

Start with your project idea.

From that starting point, map all of the ways that you could present that topic.

From those bubbles, map all the things you will need to make that happen.

For example:

